

Man Injured in Fall from Train Dead at Hospital

James Lamberton of Jarrold Street, a wiper at West Shore Round House, fatally injured in fall from freight train at West Shore Station Wednesday night.

Charles Lamberton, 31a of 24 Jarrold street, employed as a wiper at the West Shore railroad round house in the north yard, died at 5 o'clock this morning at the City of Kingston Hospital of injuries received in a fall from a moving freight train in front of the West Shore railroad station shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Lamberton generally worked until 11 o'clock each night but had evidently quit work somewhat earlier that evening. The east bound freight train stops at the round house to obtain water for the engine and it is thought that Lamberton boarded the train when it stopped to ride in as far as the railroad station. He had his lunch pail with him.

It was after the freight train had passed the railroad station that the body of Lamberton was seen lying between the two main tracks of the railroad. Chauncey Stewart, assistant yardmaster, telephoned to police headquarters for the city ambulance, and had the injured man taken to the City of Kingston Hospital where he was attended by Dr. Frederick Snyder, who is the railroad physician. It was found that Lamberton's right leg had been horribly crushed from the thigh to the knee, and that the foot was also badly crushed. In an effort to save Lamberton's life Dr. Snyder assisted by Dr. Van Gansbeek amputated the leg, and also dressed the wounds on the left leg.

At the railroad offices this morning it was stated that it was thought that Lamberton had climbed aboard the freight train at the round house where it stopped for water, and had ridden the freight in as far as the station where he attempted to jump from the moving train and was crushed beneath the wheels of the freight cars.

Lamberton made his home with his sister, Mrs. Cora DuBois, on Jarrold street. He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. William Bunce, Mrs. Cora DuBois, Mrs. Tunis DuBois, all of this city, and Mrs. Kehoe of Stapleton, S. I. He was a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. William Bunce, 150 Third avenue. Interment in Montrose cemetery.

SCOTLAND YARD RAIDS TWO LONDON NIGHT CLUBS

London, May 24 (P).—Scotland Yard detectives early today raided two of the best known London night clubs, both owned by Mrs. Kate Merrick, "Queen of the Night Clubs" and mother-in-law of one peer and the prospective mother-in-law of another.

The clubs raided were the Fortytwo and the Manhattan, largely patronized by fashionable people and known to many Americans. The procedure at both clubs was similar. A police inspector wearing evening dress was granted admission on the presumption that he was a guest. When the door was opened a squad of detectives followed him in and took possession. The names and addresses of those present were taken but nobody was arrested. Mrs. Merrick was questioned at the Manhattan club after which both clubs were closed. The grounds for the police action were not divulged.

The action was brought under the so-called Enoch Arden law. The parties were married at Clintondale in 1915. DeWitt W. Osterander appeared for Veneto.

Kill Officials And Rob Bank

Lamar, Colo., May 24 (P).—After killing two officials of the First National Bank of Lamar, four robbers today were hiding somewhere along the Colorado-New Mexico border, with a large amount of cash and negotiable securities.

Entering the bank yesterday firing pistols, the robbers turned their guns on John Parrish, cashier, and his father, E. N. Parrish, president, when they returned the fire. The first shot of the younger Parrish wounded one of the four, but the father missed and fell with a bullet in his head. A moment later a bullet pierced his son's heart.

Scoping up about $7,000 in currency and nearly $195,000 in negotiable securities, the robbers forced two tellers into an automobile and escaped. One of the tellers was released near here, but the fate of the other was unknown.

Poses were organized and one group under the leadership of the sheriff engaged in a running gun fight with the robbers. Bullets soon disabled the sheriff's automobile. The men had evaded other pursuers.

The fugitives were next reported at Trinidad, where they forced the woman proprietor of a drug store to dress the wounds of the man shot by Parrish.

He was shot in the arm and in the side. Their appearance at Trinidad caused the organization of more posses and shortly after midnight more than 1,000 volunteers were patrolling highways. Airplanes were ordered to assist in the search today.

Police Taste Blind-X Gas

Herrick Foote demonstrates use of gas for police work at Police Headquarters on Wednesday afternoon—Demonstration at Sheriff's Office.

Several of the members of the Kingston police department were given a striking demonstration of the use of gas as an aid to capturing criminals Wednesday afternoon at police headquarters. The demonstration was staged by Herrick Foote of New Haven, Conn., who manufactures and sells not only the gas shells used but also the gas gun from which the shells are discharged. Mr. Foote the same day also staged a demonstration for the sheriff's office at the court house.

When he called at police headquarters Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock he found Chief Wood, Sergeant Phinney and Policemen Reardon and Brophy. The party retired to the vacant city court room adjoining police headquarters and Chief Wood was given the loaded gas gun and discharged it.

A minute or so later the members of the police department and the demonstrator were seeking the nearest exits. The chief and the demonstrator sought the chief's office and slammed the door behind them. But emerged a minute or so later with tears streaming down their faces. Officers Brophy and Reardon also sought relief in other parts of the building but the blinding gas streamed through all of the rooms, including the police garage below headquarters where the doors stood wide open.

Word was sent over to the Central Fire Station adjoining police headquarters and several of the firemen hastened over equipped with gas masks and going through the Municipal Building opened all of the windows to allow the gas to escape.

Even this morning faint traces of the gas were present in the building. The demonstrator, who is anxious to sell the police department one of the gas outfits is expected to stage a demonstration shortly for the police board.

The gas used is known as Blind-X.

Senate Defers McNary-Haugen Consideration

Washington, May 24 (P).—Senate farm relief leaders decided today to delay until tomorrow a decision on the course to pursue with respect to the veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. The postponement was agreed to after a meeting of the agriculture committee had developed that several members were unable to attend today. The delay also was held to be the better policy in the event it was decided to attempt to override the veto because several of the McNary-Haugen proponents are out of the city.

Counsel Engage In Sharp Tilts In Knapp Trial

Court House, Albany, May 24 (P).—The sharpest tilts between counsel so far marked the resumption today of the second trial of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, accused of the larceny of a state census pay check for $2,875.06. The verbal differences came to their height as prosecution sought to counteract testimony yesterday regarding their claim that Clara Blanche Knapp, stepdaughter of the defendant and payee of the check in question, never did any work to warrant her being placed on the state census payroll.

Under cross-examination yesterday the prosecution's witness, Mark Stern, deputy secretary of state under Mrs. Knapp, testified that he did not remember testifying or not testifying during the Moreland act inquiry into the 1925 census last fall that he had never seen the stepdaughter doing any work.

Poppies Will Be Sold Saturday

American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Will Sell Poppies In This City Saturday—Proceeds For Disabled World War Veterans.

Poppy Day will be celebrated in this city on Saturday, May 26.

Poppies this year will be sold by two different veterans' organizations, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The American Legion, which is composed of veterans of the World War, has its home in the American Legion Memorial Building, West O'Reilly street, and C. J. Heiselman is commander and Eugene B. Carey, adjutant.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars is composed of Spanish-American and World War veterans, meets in Odd Fellows Hall, Broadway and Brewster street, and Henry Machold is commander and Joseph Mitchell, secretary.

American Legion poppies have a white label, which bears the name of the American Legion Veterans of Foreign Wars poppies bear a green label.

Edward J. Hillis and Mrs. George W. Potter are the chairmen in charge of the American Legion Poppy Day campaign, and Malcolm M. Michelson is in charge of the Veterans of Foreign Wars campaign.

The money thus raised is used exclusively for the relief of disabled and destitute war veterans, their wives and children, and for the orphans of deceased World War veterans.

The poppy was officially adopted as the Memorial Flower of the American Legion in September, 1920, and in Kingston Post has had a poppy day in Kingston every year since. The poppy, as a symbol of the flower that grows on the graves of the boys who sleep on Flanders Field, has won a place in the hearts of the people all over the world. Each year the poppy is given an opportunity to buy a poppy, thus helping those for whom the war is not yet over, and of wearing it in memory of all who died in the service.

"Oh you who sleep in Flanders Fields, Sleep sweet—to rise anew. We caught the Torch you threw And holding high, we keep the Faith With all who died."

"We cherish, too, the poppy red That grows on fields where valor led. It seems to signal to the skies That blood of heroes never dies. But lends a lustre to the red Of the flowers that bloom above the dead."

"And now the Torch and Poppy red We wear in honor of our Dead. Fear not that you have died for naught; We've learned the lesson that ye taught, In Flanders Fields."

$1,024 Awarded Hepworth in Cold Storage Action

Which Was Brought Against Him By Fred W. Vail and Sons—Katie A. LeFever Against S. S. Kresge Company Taken Up For Trial.

The action brought in supreme court by Fred W. Vail, Sr. and Fred W. Vail, Jr. against John M. Hepworth and Joseph A. Hepworth for damages to fruit stored in the Hepworth cold storage plant at Marlborough was concluded Wednesday afternoon and sent to the jury. A motion by Frank W. Brooks, counsel for defendant, asking that the action be dismissed was granted by Judge Smith, no evidence having been introduced to indicate that Mr. Hepworth, Sr. was a party to the transaction. It was testified that J. M. Hepworth conducted the plant independent of his father.

At the opening of court this morning the jury returned a verdict for defendant Hepworth in the sum of $1,024.

No. 19, Katie A. LeFever against S. S. Kresge Company was taken up for trial. The action is brought by Mrs. LeFever who resides on Cedar street to recover for injuries alleged to have been inflicted while she was a customer in the Kresge store on Wall street in May or June, 1924.

Mrs. LeFever charges while she was in the store attending an apron sale a youth of about 14 years rode in the store on a bicycle and ran over her foot twice, inflicting injuries which caused her much pain and suffering and makes it necessary for her to now use a cane. She charges that while she was waiting for change the lad ran over her foot and then backed up and ran over it a second time. She was injured and after notifying Miss Herndon, who was at the counter, of the injury she left the store and went home where she was treated by Dr. Shibley and later by Chandler and Dr. John G. O'Leary. She is still under the care of Dr. O'Leary.

Miss Moran, clerk in the store was called. She gave a description of the store and of the location of the counter where the aprons were on sale. Later a blue print was offered in evidence. Miss Moran said she worked near the door and saw no bicycle come in the store.

Mrs. LeFever testified that she had notified Miss Herndon later of the accident and had attempted to talk to the manager of the store but had been unable to do so as he walked away whenever she attempted to engage him in conversation.

Frank W. Brooks appears for the plaintiff and V. B. Van Wageningen is attorney of record for plaintiff. Petitioner, Glenney, & Borgard are attorneys of record for defendant and Amos Van Etten is trial counsel.

During the opening of the case Mr. Van Etten moved for the withdrawal of a juror and a mistrial when Mr. Brooks inquired of the jurors if they were members of the Anti-Saloon League and stated that Mr. Kresge was a member of that organization. The motion of Mr. Van Etten was denied and the court proceeded. Court recessed early at noon in order that Judge Smith might attend the weekly meeting of the Kingston Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

CITY HALL ROOF TO BE LETTERED FOR AVIATORS.

Mayor E. J. Dempsey has received a request from Senator J. G. Webb, of the Senate Aviation Committee, asking that the letters KINGSTON be placed on the roof of the city hall so that they can be easily seen by passing aviators. The mayor has taken the matter up with the city architects who state that white letters between four and five feet in length, painted in white on the roof, will be easily visible from the air. Senator Webb in his letter to the mayor stated that the state was complying with the procedure adopted by the federal government in having the names of various cities placed on top of conspicuous buildings so that aviators may know where they are in flying over a city.

VERDICT AGAINST TOWN FOR AUTOMOBILE DEATH

Troy, N. Y., May 24 (P).—A jury in Rensselaer county supreme court this morning returned a verdict of $10,000 against the town of East Greenbush in favor of Christopher Carner, whose brother, George, was killed when his automobile went down a 125-foot embankment in the town last September 24.

Justice Charles E. Nichols, however, directed that the verdict be reduced to $5,400. The complaint in the case alleged the fatal accident was due to negligence of town officials in failing to have the road repaired.

Rabies Exist In Six Towns

State Health Department Certifies Rabies Exist in Towns of Esopus, Marlborough, Kingston, Saugerties and Ulster and Also in City.

State Health Commissioner Matthew N. Call has issued certificates that rabies exist in six towns in Ulster county and also in the city of Kingston, and all owners of dogs must be notified by printed notice in the public press that no dogs must be allowed to roam at large unless they are properly muzzled.

Dr. Landaw, state sanitary inspector of this district, which comprises the county of Ulster, was at the board of health office today and stated that the towns affected by the state order are Esopus, Kingston, Marlborough, Saugerties and Ulster as well as the city of Kingston.

According to Dr. Landaw he was informed while in Albany on Wednesday that the State Troopers had received orders to help enforce the muzzling law and that the State Troopers have been instructed to shoot any unmuzzled dog they find at large which they believed was impracticable to capture.

In Kingston the situation is being handled by a dog warden, who is an experienced man, and who has been at work capturing all unmuzzled dogs. The dogs caught here are impounded and held for three days before being killed.

Texas Votes Go to Dry Candidate

Beaumont, Tex., May 24 (P).—Emerging from a spirited three-cornered fight centering on prohibition, Texas Democrats have decided to use their 49 votes at the National Convention of the party to work for a dry platform plank and a candidate in sympathy with it.

This decision was reached at the State Democratic Convention here yesterday when the youthful governor, Dan Moody, led the "harmony" faction in a break with supporters of Governor Alfred E. Smith after the latter group had helped Moody's followers defeat a strong ultra-dry contingent in a movement to instruct against the New York Governor.

The break followed an effort of Smith backers to obtain several representatives on the delegation to the National Convention by allowing its own delegates. Renouncing a previous stand for supremacy of the districts, Moody obtained a majority vote for a resolution to permit a committee appointed by the convention chairman to name the delegates. This assured selection of dry delegates. Moody then was elected chairman of the Texas delegation.

Pointing to the adoption of a state platform demanding a dry plank in the National party platform and a dry candidate for president, Moody said, that, as far as he was concerned, the state delegation never should vote for Governor Smith. However, he said during the pre-convention skirmishing that while he was opposed to Smith, he did not favor instructing against him by name and should the New York Governor be nominated at Houston in June, he would urge Texas Democrats to support him.

Smith spokesmen claimed they would have obtained 10 or 12 of the state's 49 votes had congressional districts been permitted to name their own delegates. As specified in the state platform, the delegation will be bound by unit rule.

The platform pledges the delegation to support the party nominee whoever he may be, and demands "enforcement in both the letter and spirit" of the constitution. Discussion of these instructions brought statements from the Smith faction that Texas would turn to Smith "possibly on the second ballot," while harmony speakers declared support for the New York Governor would be forthcoming only after his nomination was assured by the votes of other delegations.

FORD COMES IN SECOND IN FOOT RACE BY TWO

Chester, Pa., May 24 (P).—Henry Ford finished second in a foot race here recently and although it subtracts some from his glory to report that there was only one other in the race, it is said he finished close to the winner, W. W. Mitchell, general manager of the Ford plant here, a much younger man.

Ford challenged Mitchell after hiking seven miles over the golf course of the Spring Haven Club at Wallingford. Mitchell asked if he should run his best and Ford rejoined: "You will have to run your best if you expect to win."

The pair ran over a 100 yard course, hats off and coats tails flying, and the employee showed his heels to his famous chief.

The Measure of a Great Public Service

SO great has been the public demand for telephone service in New York State in the past seven years that $450,000,000—half again as much as the cost of the Panama Canal—have been required to enlarge the system and supply the necessary facilities.

Such a huge investment required to supply a public demand indicates how valuable telephone service is to the people of the Empire State.

The expenditure of vast sums each year must go on. Just as business and social life, continue their onward march, so must our provision of telephone facilities for the future continue.

To pioneer the way for the coming years and have the service ready on demand, is a task that involves intricate problems of engineering and construction.

Upon the successful solution of these problems depends the future of the service which telephone users find more useful each year, because it enables them to telephone anywhere at any time, to anyone at any place.

Plans were made for the summer schedule, from June 15 to Sept. 15 when the library will be open every afternoon except Sunday and Monday. Miss Edith Macomb will be in charge throughout the summer. Attention was called to the fact that membership dues for the year June 1, 1922, to June 1, 1923, are now payable to H. I. Aumack-Ryan.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Aumack, of Broad street, Eatontown, have announced the marriage of their son, Edward L. Aumack, to Miss Marjory M. Ryan, daughter of Mrs. Anna Ryan, of Kingston, N. Y. The ceremony was performed Sunday evening at 7 o'clock by the Rev. C. J. Farman, at the rectory of St. Donohue's Roman Catholic Church, of Eatontown. Miss Vera Riddle was bridesmaid and Joseph Ratti was best man at the ceremony. The bride was attired in a yellow seagorgette crepe gown and large picture hat to match. The young couple will reside with the bridegroom's parents at Eatontown for the present.

Todd-Wyckoff.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pierce, 305 Stelle avenue, New York city, was the scene of a very pretty afternoon wedding Wednesday when Miss Mildred Wyckoff, daughter of Mrs. M. S. Wyckoff, and the Rev. Harvey Ira Todd, of Woodstock, N. Y., were united in marriage by Dr. Oberholper of the Lutheran Church of that village. The bride was stunningly dressed in a gown of white tulle and lace, the veil falling from a cap of the same material. Mrs. Robert Anderson Carter, Jr., of Brooklyn, matron of honor, was the bride's only attendant. The house was prettily decorated with flowers and the living room, where the ceremony was performed, was banked with palms. Only close friends and immediate members of the family were present, numbering about 50 guests. Following the ceremony the couple left for an extended honeymoon in northern New York. It was reported, after which they plan to make their home in Woodstock where the Rev. Mr. Todd will continue his work with the Dutch Reformed Church of that place. Mrs. Todd is a graduate of Adelphi Academy of Brooklyn. The Rev. Mr. Todd is a graduate of Rutgers College and Theological Seminary.

BEARDSTOWN RESIDENTS NOW SAFE FROM FLOODS

Beardstown, Ill., May 24 (AP).—Beardstown, which takes its floods with a grin, has the laugh on its ancient enemy, the Illinois river. The last concrete soon will be poured on a retaining wall to keep the river where it belongs. It rained this spring, but the river remained in its banks, and this has been one of the few spring seasons that Beardstown folk have not gone to church in boats and transacted business in rubber boots. Time after time the city has been inundated—literally. Beardstown got tired of its wetness last year and decided to construct the retaining wall. Elsewhere such things are called sea walls, but Beardstown refuses to dignify its arch enemy by calling it a "sea."

PLUTARCH MAN DIED FROM AUTO INJURIES

Juno Lillberg, 32, of Plutarch, died Tuesday morning at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, from injuries received in an automobile accident near Ohioville early Friday night. He was coming from New Paltz when the car he was driving suddenly careened from the road into a concrete post, throwing Lillberg from the car, fracturing his skull.

Surviving are his wife and two sons, one of which is only one week old. Dr. Card announced that he will hold an autopsy soon. An inquest will be held Saturday to determine the cause of death.

Mr. Lillberg was a member of the Highland American Legion.

ISABEL H. CORKENDALL, A Tribute

Isabel Corkendall was of so radiant and resilient a nature, so vivid a personality, that it is difficult to realize she has joined the innumerable host that has preceded us to the realm of immortality. To those who knew her well from girlhood, she seemed like one apart in her aspirations and ideals, which were of the highest and finest. As a daughter, a sister, a wife and a friend, she was unstinted in her devotion; unfaltering in her loyalty, intrepid in suffering and sorrow, resourceful and helpful in time of need, ever generous in judgment, never critical of effort. Always sympathetic, she was endowed with an indefinable charm and grace that endurably endeared her to all who came within the sphere of an influence always ennobling and stimulating to lofty endeavor and achievement.

A lover of the beautiful in art and nature. She rests at last, where souls unbodied dwell, in ever flowing Meads of Asphodel. A. T. C.

Virginia V. wife of the late William Ackley, died today at her home, 33 Cedar street. Funeral at the chapel of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Wiltwyck cemetery.

The funeral of Aleck Evans, who died at the home of Mrs. David Griffin, Shandaken, Sunday, was held Wednesday at the M. E. Church of Shandaken. Interment was in Shandaken Rural Cemetery. One brother, Walter Evans of Albany, survives.

Virginia V. Ackley, widow of William Ackley, who resided at 33 Cedar street, died Wednesday night at the Benedictine Hospital. Funeral Saturday at 2 p. m. at the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Interment in Wiltwyck Cemetery. She is survived by two brothers, Augustus Meeker of Cleveland, Ohio, and B. W. Meeker of Bayonne, N. J.

Funeral services for Raymond Everts, who died Wednesday, May 16, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Everts, Gardiner, were held 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Lester Leggett of the Wallkill Reformed Church and the Rev. Victor Simons of the Gardiner Reformed Church officiated. There were many beautiful floral pieces. Burial was in the New Paltz cemetery in charge of Sutton Brothers, Clintondale.

George L. Snyder, who engaged in the harness-making business in this city for a great many years and was widely known throughout Ulster county, died suddenly this morning at his home, 622 Broadway. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. H. C. Van Slyke of Cornwall, N. Y., and Miss Lulu Snyder of this city; three sons, Walter, William and Victor all of this city. He was a charter member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and of the church board. Funeral Saturday at his residence at 2:30 p. m. and at the Redeemer Church at 3 o'clock. Interment in the Wiltwyck cemetery.

The funeral of Charles Walsh, one of Rosendale's most popular young citizens, who died at his home Sunday, was held Wednesday from his late residence at 9:30 a. m. and at St. Peter's Church at 10 o'clock with a high Mass of requiem for the repose of his soul. St. Peter's choir sang the responses to the Mass. He had a beautiful tenor voice and was a member of the choir until ill health forced him to retire. While the casket was being borne from the church Mrs. Joseph Mooney sang very feelingly, "My God, My Father While I Stray". A profusion of beautiful flowers, which banked the casket, bespoke the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The following six men, who were close friends, acted as bearers: Vincent Steely, Stephen Huben, Joseph McGinn, Jr., James Gallagher, William Quick, Jr., and John Feasel. Interment was in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery, Rosendale.

from the area, leaving the bleached fracts of countless sheep. Vast herds of country, but a few years ago the fertile lands of prosperous farmers are now arid wastes. Many empty farmhouses are falling into decay.

But farmers on the edge of the drought area are still carrying on.
For several years it has been the custom to herd out their sheep and cattle, sending them hundreds of miles by train to fertile districts. Well after fall has dried up as the months pass without rain. Every day the relentless sun shines down on a dusty land from which the last vestige of green has long disappeared, and it almost seems that a new desert must be marked on the map of the British Empire.

MELION DISAPPROVES TAX PUBLICITY PROVISION
Washington, May 24 (AP).—Secretary Mellon said today that the treasury department was strongly opposed to the income tax publicity provision in the pending tax reduction bill.

He believes that this provision will set objection to the publicity secretary, he said, was that it would expose private business affairs to the scrutiny of competitors and curiosity seekers.

"No civilized country publishes the private affairs of its citizens and no good can come of such publicity," he added.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 24, 1925.

A city that prides itself on its general appearance, but wants to improve, is offering a prize for "the best-looking block of houses in town." Best-looking, it is explained, doesn't mean the most expensive or dignified. "It means the cheeriest, the block that seems to hold out the most cordial welcome to visitors." Beauty seems to be assumed, but it is well to insist on the cheeriness. Some group of houses in a modest neighborhood may win that distinction. They will be houses well planned and kept in good repair. They will not all look alike. There will be trees and shrubs in the front yards, and probably flower gardens in the back yards. But they will not be too neat and precise. And there will be children and dogs in them. Otherwise there would be no real cheeriness or sense of welcome.

MARY AND THE LAMB.

Was the celebrated schoolgirl Mary, who had the little lamb, American or English? The question was supposedly settled with finality when Henry Ford bought the school in Massachusetts that Mary and her lamb attended. Ford possesses not only the place where it happened, but documentary evidence giving the name of the girl and the name of the Massachusetts man who wrote the poem, although there are authorities who maintain that the scene was in Newport, N. H., with another set of characters.

Nevertheless the people of Great Britain have just been celebrating the 85th birthday of the aforesaid Mary, now Mrs. Mary Hughes, who vouches for the fact that she took the lamb to school. And the poem, it is asserted, was written by an Englishwoman, Jane Bar, by name, who lived in London.

This is distressing. There ought to be an international commission appointed to straighten it out.

LIFE FOR LIQUOR.

A housewife in Lansing, Mich., is facing life imprisonment for two pints of liquor, found in her home by deputy sheriffs. This is in accordance with a new Michigan law which provides the life penalty for "habitual criminals" and makes possession of liquor a felony. The woman has been convicted previously of three liquor offenses, and last time was warned that the next would mean a life term. This is the second case of the kind. A male citizen of Lansing is already serving a life sentence for a pint of gin.

Some people in the United States, whatever their attitude toward liquor, do not believe this is a wise or fair way to enforce prohibition. Of course people have no business keeping booze in the house, especially after they have been warned. But this extreme punishment doesn't fit the crime, and therefore arouses resentment that leads thousands, who otherwise might have nothing to do with liquor, to go as far as they dare.

MIDDLE-AGED WORKERS.

A financial writer who has been receiving many letters from working people says he finds among them these three leading grievances: That many employees have been dismissed in the last nine months because of slackened business. That many companies refuse to hire any man over 40. That married women are employed when married men are unable to get jobs.

The first is unfortunate, but sometimes inevitable. The third is bad social and economic policy. The second is not only bad economics but tragically unjust. Are men to be used only while they are young, then scrapped like obsolete machinery? Between 49 and 59, or even 40 and 60, a man is often at his best. He may be less alert and enduring, but he has greater knowledge, experience and dependability. It is foolish, as far as an employer's own interest is concerned, to make a rule against such men.

AIRPORT POPULARITY.

Here is one little picture of what is happening today in aviation. A city that acquired a fine, spacious airport three or four years ago needed to resign it after the first year of peace, as something for the future. It was used by a few planes, but was neglected by the public. A year ago anyone driving up to the field on Sunday found it almost deserted. There might be a dozen cars parked around last Sunday there were 30,000 visitors there swarming all over the place eager to see the aerial activity. They watched the planes, the air mail, the planes taking off and landing, or the local planes taking up visitors. Two dozen traffic officers had their hands full. Thousands brought their lunch and remained all day. The airport is evidently regarded as a combination of circus and public park.

That is a normal Sunday now for that airport. And it shows what is happening at dozens of other American airports. Why the big difference in one year? "Lindbergh" is the answer. He woke up the country. He made the American people air-conscious. He gave them interest in aviation, admiration and love for bird-men, and a desire to fly themselves.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

EFFECTS OF GOITRE.

You are reading almost daily now about the thyroid gland in the front part of the neck and how the secretion it manufactures has a great influence upon the body processes.

Too much of this secretion or juice in the blood stimulates the cells to increased action, and the individual is usually thin, high strung, very active in movements, and talks rapidly.

Too little or an insufficient supply of this juice and the individual is usually overweight, slow in action and speech. However the effect of slight thyroid or goitre enlargement has been very carefully studied at the University of Illinois. They tell us that college students with enlargement of the thyroid gland are at a considerable disadvantage in their college standing.

In a group of students with high academic standing the number of normal students was larger than those with goitre. Now as increased thyroid secretion makes energy, that these students would be brighter and stand higher, but such is not the case.

Whether or not this is due to tiredness, or exhaustion of the cells from overwork, is not stated.

And what about the effect physically?

In athletics it was found that the freshman with a normal thyroid gland had ten chances to one over the freshman with an enlarged thyroid to make an athletic team, and the student in the third and fourth years had twenty times better chance of making a team than the one with thyroid enlargement.

Now if an enlarged thyroid gland is going to affect students both mentally and physically something should be done about it.

It is for this reason that the practice of giving iodine to school children for a short period twice a year is being used in many cities, especially in the region about the great lakes where goitre is more prevalent.

A form of salt known as iodized salt is being sold in these districts so that sufficient iodine may be taken without any further thought in the matter. Some cities also have iodine added to their drinking water which is found to be helpful to goitrous people.

However, iodine directly, in salt, or in drinking water, while safe and effective for the majority of individuals, should nevertheless be given only by a physician's prescription and under his supervision.

So if your boy or girl has any tendency toward goitre, remember its effects mentally and physically, and let your doctor get busy with appropriate treatment.

Boston's Eveless Adamases

Modesty, lack of self-confidence, was (and is) a fault of Boston in character—just as undue self-consciousness is in manners. The Cabot type—a semicivilized tribe inhabiting the confines of Boston with customs, but no manners, as the great lexicographer defined them—had at least no manners, and that is all right. "How fortunate," said the French ambassador of some Eve of Boston's Adamases, "that young lady has no manners! Because, if she had manners they would be bad." Only indeed, that Boston's Adamases have no Eve. Eve is not a Boston type, any more than Astaire.—F. J. Stimson in Scribner's Magazine.

TUCKERMAN APPROVES THE "BOULEVARD STOP"

From Maj. L. C. Tuckerman of Milton the Automobile Club of Ulster County has received the following letter, deemed by the club officials well worth consideration by the public:

May 21st, 1925. Automobile Club of Ulster County, Kingston, N. Y. Gentlemen:

I have been away for the past six months during which I have had opportunities of observing the working of the "Boulevard Stop" system of traffic control in such cities as Albuquerque, N. M., Santa Fe, N. M., Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, Cal., and particularly in Honolulu, where I drove a car for some five months.

In Honolulu the population is very mixed of Orientals, Hawaiians and whites and offers a problem if any place does.

Where not controlled by lights or police, intersections in these cities are marked with stop signs, and believe me the cars stop before turning from one to another. Not just a slowing down, but a stop.

I have never known a regulation which adds so much to the peace of mind of the driver as this one.

It seems to me that our Automobile Association should take up this matter now with a view to securing the necessary legislation next winter.

Cities to specify main traffic streets as through streets and require stopping before turning in from cross streets.

State roads and main county roads to be through roads with a stop required on county roads before turning into state roads, and stops before turning into either from any cross or intersecting road or driveway.

I think you will lessen the crashes very noticeably by this system. Very truly yours, L. C. TUCKERMAN.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception from local stations was good Wednesday evening, with no static and no serious loss of music about 10 o'clock, when a perfectly diabolical outbreak occurred. At that time also WGY began to smart and fade. One of the best programs was that of the women's magazine. Toothpaste and trim were also represented by good programs and the Madrigals and Rallickers were as usual, entertaining. There was little DX.

Reception this morning was clear and strong.

MUSIC IN SMALL VILLAGES IS AIM OF NEW CAMPAIGN

Program and Recreation Association to Extend Movement Begun in Adirondacks.

New York.—A campaign to carry music to small towns will be promoted throughout the United States. It has been announced by the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America. The organization plans to extend nationally a movement begun in Adirondack villages by the Lake Placid club and aims to open greater musical opportunities to the 52,000,000 persons who live in towns of 2,500 population or less and who, in many cases, have had no musical education and are unable to read even the simplest music.

Its first objective will be to further the work among villages of New York state. Music "mistresses" already have been placed in 64 towns, with the co-operation of the state education department, which pays half the salaries of these music teachers. The rest of the expenses has been met by the local boards of education.

Chorus, glee clubs, orchestras, choirs, music festivals, and operettas are among the community music activities which have been started. With the aid of the radio and phonograph, musical appreciation has been taught to the little red schoolhouse and the country around it.

Large towns and cities will be urged to reach out into the country with their musical resources, holding annual music festivals in which rural groups as well as others may compete. The dearth of musical education and of opportunities to hear good music found in northern New York is true of small towns in many other states, according to the association.

High Heels Spoil Legs, Dr. Mayo Warns Girls

Los Angeles, Calif.—Women are suffering the shape of their legs on an altar of high heels in the opinion of Dr. Charles Mayo, famous surgeon of Rochester, Minn. Doctor Mayo is in Los Angeles on a vacation.

"Ladies' legs are really an interesting study nowadays," said the noted surgeon. "They're losing their calves. Why, these high-heeled shoes they're wearing are changing completely the shape of their legs."

"You know, after watching them walking on their high heels, I made an experiment some time ago. I took several thick cork blocks and strapped them under my own heels and tried walking on them—like the ladies do. 'I found that it made my calves absolutely useless. In other words, the ladies, by using high-heeled shoes, are gradually atrophying their calves. And you can see for yourself what it's doing to their legs.'"

Women also are getting shorter, according to the doctor.

"They ride in automobiles too much," he explained. "So, not walking, they get shorter. And because they're getting shorter, they're wearing higher heels so they can walk beside their men."

Common Sense or Brains

The judge of the Probate court was trying to determine the intelligence of Mamie Lee, a thirteen-year-old colored girl, who had been considered "not quite bright." Pointing to the woman who had brought Mamie into court, the judge said:

"Mamie, if Mrs. Garrick weighs 165 pounds, standing on both feet, how much does she weigh standing on one foot?"

Mamie eyed the judge suspiciously, and replied: "Does you want me to use my common sense, or does you want to see if I can divide by two?"—True Story Magazine.

Cross Dropped On North Pole

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 24 (AP).—A cross containing a message written by Pope Pius was dropped on the North Pole today from the dirigible Italia, marking the third trip by air to the top of the world.

General Umberto Nobile kept in constant communication with the mothership Citta Di Milano here as the dirigible made its way under his command to the Pole from 756 miles north of here. At 1:30 a. m., almost 21 hours after the start of the venture, he wirelessed that the airship was over the Pole.

The flags of Italy and Milan, the cross presented by the Pope to General Nobile and various souvenirs were dropped on the Pole. The cross is about six feet high with a metal base and has a repository in which the message written in Latin by Pope Pius was placed.

Immediately after the cross was dropped, the airship sent wireless greetings to King Victor Emmanuel, Premier Mussolini and Nobile's wife by wireless through the Citta Di Milano.

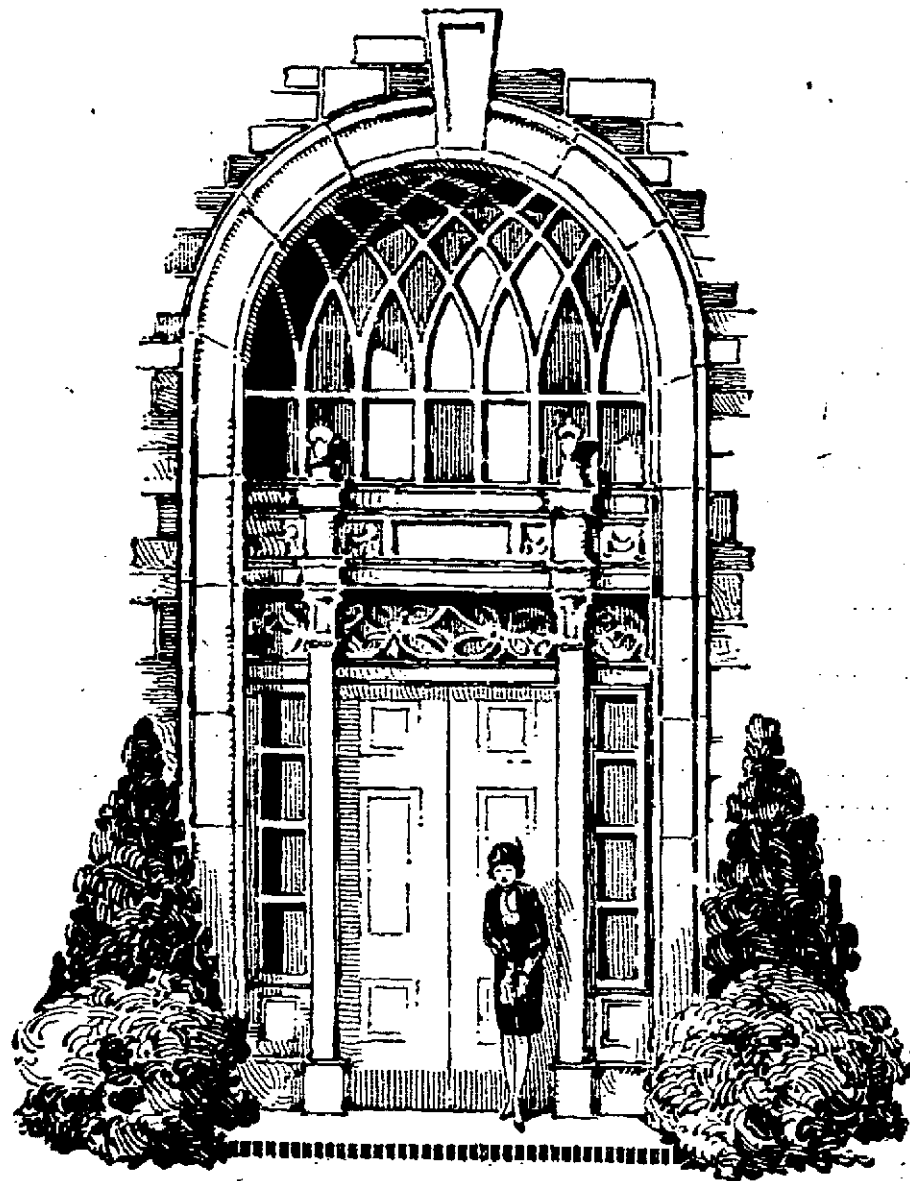

The base crew expected the Italia to return to Kings Bay this afternoon.

The Arts and Religion

Drama seems to have come from religious ritual and festival processions; even to the days of the skeptical Euripides it remained a sacred thing at Athens; and modern drama, the most secular of contemporary arts, began in the Mass and in the pious parades which pictured for the medieval mind the life and death of Christ. Sculpture found a new splendor in the adornment of the cathedrals; and painting reached its zenith under the inspiration of Christianity.—Will Durant, in Cosmopolitan.

Powder Means Much to Me

By Edna Waller Hopper
The average woman considers the actress hopelessly ahead of her in the art of enhancing natural beauty. The reason for this advantage is that the actress makes a business of attracting and she knows how. It is her bread and butter.

In the matter of powder, the actress is far ahead of the average woman. I have seen her use the powder that now adds the last touch to my carefully selected face. It is not the one quality I have found in no other powder. That is, it blends so smoothly with the texture of my skin that my face never looks "made up" when I am offstage.

Because it lends such natural bloom I call it my Youth Powder. In the immense quantities now produced I am able to offer it to women at a low price.

If your skin requires a clinging powder I advise using my Youth Powder in the Heavy Type. It also can be had in the Light Type. Both have the same delicate elusive fragrance.

Get either type in Flesh, Brunette or White at any toilet counter.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Country Clothes Are Varied in Character, but Remain Relatively Simple—Brown and White Begins to Justify Rumors Concerning It

New York—Country clothes are given an impetus by the back-to-nature movement that dominates us all at this season. While all clothes of this type are not rigorously tailored—in fact, they are often inclined to frivolté—there are certain "musts" and "must nots" that should never be overlooked in dressing for out of town.

One never errs in being simply dressed. The fabric range is extensive, ranging from woollens to glazed cloth, and to plain or printed linens. Wool georgette has become a general favorite, the feeling being for light-weight woollens. Curiously enough, for wash fabrics, such as linens and cottons, a more substantial weave, such, for instance, as pique, is preferred.

A Smart Woolen Straight-Line Coat Ends Above a Neutral Kaslin Frock, Double-Breasted, with Front Box Pleats and a Belt Wider Than Most.

The endorsement of tub silk dresses, not only in one but two-piece models, provides variety. Dresses may be sleeveless for warm weather days out of town, where the ensemble remains the dominant factor. For each sleeveless dress there must be a coat, jacket, or cape, not necessarily of matching material or even color, but linked together by a common trimming detail or by a harmony of line and purpose.

On the Riviera a few months ago, every smart woman, or so it seemed, wore Chanel's tri-color scarf, and this established the importance of blue or white as a basic tone. There were, however, many rumors of the new and unusual combination of brown with white. These rumors are now beginning to be justified.

Hawk Bats Lineman
While working in a tower on power lines near Saugus, Calif., an electric company lineman saw a bird's nest and he shoved it over with his hand. A hawk flew out and attacked the man so viciously that he fell from the tower. He was taken to a hospital with a broken leg, two fractured ribs and some bruises.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Goes Back Centuries
The expression, "A cat may look at a queen" is evidently a paraphrase of the title of a pamphlet published in 1652 called "A Cat May Look at a King."

Scarf Idea Developed in an Interesting Way

The scarf idea, so popular now, is smartly developed through a contrasting colored checked material in a natty white flannel ensemble worn by the motion picture actress, Loreta Young, heroine of "Laugh, Clown, Laugh." Not only is the accompanying blouse fashioned of the same checked material, but the ensemble idea is carried out in the use of the checked material on the accompanying accessories.

On Rearing Children from CRIB TO COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of "CHILDREN, The Magazine for PARENTS"

Every child should have periodic health examinations by a physician, followed by prompt attention to any necessary remedial work.

A child will learn to work for himself and his own ends with a real zest if parents will see that he is supplied with creative materials, opportunities and the proper atmosphere for original, interest-building experiences. There is a wealth of material at hand for every child. Clay, cement, musical instruments, paints and colors of every kind, foods, textiles, building materials, tools, chemicals, the world of animal and plant life—all he needs are the adults who will recognize the necessity for opening up these possibilities to little children if they are to develop the basis for liking to work and live in an adult world.

Children do not live by bread alone. The parent who fails to render good example, good advice, a watchfulness and comradeship that never abate, yet never tyrannizes or oppresses, have not lived up to the divine precepts of parenthood.

Laughter is the birthright of every child. It should be cultivated in every home. Children are afraid of formality and in proportion as the atmosphere of the home is stiff, severe and exacting, will they be rigid and unresponsive to all efforts at training in the art of happy living. Just one smile lingers them up astonishingly. A real laugh with them makes them as clay in your hands, plastic to your slightest touch.

Your adolescent son will eat twice as much of anything if it looks attractive. His esthetic senses are just awakening and he hates things ordinary or "messy." But a boy at that age, more than ever, needs simple food of high nutritional value, plenty of green vegetables and milk, few sweets.

Home experience can be made to function in co-operation with, and not against school experience. The home that is organized on democratic principles, that allows the children voice and choice, is the home that sends forth resourceful, responsible citizens. The home where children work together at dishwashing or bedmaking is teaching the important lesson of teamwork. The home that sponsors pleasant parties where boys and girls may meet, is breeding the courtesies, tact and unselfishness that make up the difficult art of social intercourse. The home that takes its part in community activities—that makes use of the library, supports the church, contributes toward the work of social agencies—is forming an attitude of responsibility toward the whole human family.

If you find it difficult to keep the baby from kicking the covers off at night try fastening the corners of the blankets to an elastic. The other end of the elastic should be sewed to tapes which may be tied around the bed posts. Thus the covers will be held down firmly enough to discourage crawling out while the give of the elastic prevents their becoming uncomfortable.

Rotarians Break Into the Movies

After listening to an address of Dr. Thayer on crime, criminals, schools, weakness of the houses, law and other things of interest, Kingston Rotarians had their picture taken after the luncheon this morning as one of the features of the movie to be shown in Reade's Theatre next month. Some of the members developed great and unexpected talents as movie actors and Hollywood probably yearns and yawns for them. Maybe the theatre audience will be the same. Visitors present included Al Kert, Mr. Shapiro and Miss Smith, who is a member of the Matineello Rotary Club.

The speaker was Dr. Walter N. Thayer of Napanoch, who talked of crime and punishment in his usual profound but entertaining way. Apparently growth in crime, Dr. Thayer said, is due in part at least to there being more laws to break. Probation has been working out among those who are not born criminals, as is proven by the increased percentage of previous offenders sentenced for more serious crimes. Those who commit minor offenses and are placed on probation are saved from becoming habitual criminals. There is now in Napanoch a man with a record of 27 convictions. He is a model prisoner and much better off inside a prison than he would be outside. Such men should be kept inside. They are incurable.

But it is unreasonable to suppose that any judge sentencing a person can prophesy at what time that person will have been cured of criminal tendencies. Under an indeterminate sentence there is a chance to release the prisoner when there is reason to believe that a cure has been effected. Under a determinate sentence there is no such chance. A determinate sentence is merely punitive, a sentence of retribution.

Under the Bureau laws it is growing more difficult to secure convictions of four offenders. Jurors do not consider the movies and the life in arriving at a verdict, and they are on trial and they are reluctant to condemn to life imprisonment for a comparatively minor offense.

Many of the schools might be improved. It is fully to insist that children of low mentality along certain lines be compelled to study subjects they never can master and that they have no taste for. It is humiliating and worse than useless to keep them in classes with children much smaller or but brighter. Better place them in training for some line of manual labor for which they are fitted and in which they are interested. They can become great scholars, but they can become great workmen.

In thanking Dr. Thayer for his address, President Michael of the Rotary Club invited him to visit certain classes in the Kingston High School in which these ideas of training along the lines for which children were naturally fitted and in which they were interested are being carried out successfully.

Final Plans for Overnight News Gathered by A. P.

By The Associated Press.

The final meeting of the general Memorial Day committee will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the American Legion Memorial Building. Final arrangements will be made for the big Memorial Day program which will be carried out by the city of Kingston on next Wednesday. The program consists of decoration of veterans' graves by the school children in the morning, a big parade, the firing of an artillery salute at the high school, and a Memorial Day address by Charles H. Tuttle, U. S. district attorney for the southern district of New York.

About fifty different organizations and societies have signified their intention to parade. Music will be furnished by a half dozen bands and drum corps.

Major O. E. Hiltbrant, grand marshal of the parade, asks that every organization be represented at the meeting on Friday night, in order that he may be able to assign places in the line of march.

The Memorial Day program as outlined by the committee representing the various patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations of the city has met with enthusiastic response. It seems to be the general opinion that a proper observance of Memorial Day is not only a tribute to the memories of the nation's soldier and sailor dead, but that a big turnout is a mark of respect to the few surviving members of the gallant G. A. R. Until this year the members of the G. A. R. have always proudly and faithfully taken charge of the Memorial Day programs. If you wish to make their faithful old hearts glad, visit the cemeteries, join the parade, or be at the high school, and have a part in the ceremonies of the day.

Partners

The small towns and cities are vitally interested in the problem of bringing new industries within their gates, in order that they may grow and prosper. In this work they find a powerful friend and partner in the electric light and power company.

Many industries today are moving away from the large crowded cities and are seeking new homes in the villages, towns, and smaller cities of the land. And these industries in addition to land and buildings, must have light and power. This fact furnishes the opportunity for the electric light and power company to serve as partner of the community.

For with a modern interconnected electric power system at its elbow the community knows that, so far as light and power are concerned, it can unhesitatingly invite industry to locate within its boundaries, secure in the knowledge that these necessities will be supplied by its "partner."

We furnish the power that helps communities grow

Gives View of Sea Bed

Very often, when the water is clear, it is unnecessary to send a diver down simply to find an object, for the bed of the sea can be seen quite well with the aid of a submarine telescope. It is called the "Catoptric tube."

In appearance this tube is similar to an ordinary large telescope, but it has legs attached to it, to which ropes can be attached for keeping it vertical in the water. Sometimes, instead of the ordinary telescope eyepiece, binoculars are fitted. This "Catoptric tube" is very often used in recovering small articles of value that have been lost by dropping them in the sea from a pier or small boat.

Picturesque Siena and Pisa

Baptistery, Cathedral and Leaning Tower of Pisa.

(Described by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

IN A JOURNEY through northern Italy there is an embarrassment of riches; every town is worthy of a prolonged visit. Nature provided for Siena a position that was the commanding center of all her region, a lofty, abrupt ridge, dividing the network of streams that flow to both north and south and west; but she withheld the one further thing needed—water. Not only were the nearby streams mere brooks, affording no means of communication with the surrounding country, but there was not even enough water for the city's supply.

Patently engineers searched the hills for any trace of the precious fluid, and with remarkable skill brought the flow of every available spring into subterranean conduits that still move us to admiration by their cleverness. Once, when they found an extra drop—enough to furnish a thin stream for a new and lovely fountain—the whole city carnival for two solid weeks in joyous abandon, and named their new treasure the Fonte Gallo.

It was a typical celebration of this kind, simple, provincial folk whom Dante patronizes a little sorrowfully as "frivolous gentry." With the natural gaiety and mercurial temperament of impulsive youngsters, gayly they began, and as gayly forsook an object.

Their very cathedral, unfinished and bizarre, is one of their most characteristic records. Incomplete as the men who stopped building at it when adverse circumstances damped their juvenile enthusiasm. It is a building of contradictions and excesses, neither Romanesque nor Gothic, but of both schools, tinged with Lombard and Pisan peculiarities; a tremendous pile of black and white marbles, mostly wrong in its fundamentals, and yet, in some intangible way despite all its shortcomings, it makes as distinct an impression as a Roman triumphal arch, for it is incongruous with genius, not with stupidity.

Not all Siena's children merited the great Florentine epithet; certainly neither Pope Pius II nor St. Bernardino could be accused of frivolity, and the mystic St. Catherine, greatest, perhaps of them all, despite her humble origin in a dyer's family, lived a short, beautiful, tremendously effective life, and left her impress upon both her church and city for ages to come.

With its many beautiful palaces and churches, loggias and fountains, Siena ranks immediately after Rome, Florence and Venice in the importance of its art during the Thirteenth to the Sixteenth centuries. The whole city is instinct with character—a maze of fascinating streets winding and twisting about behind stout stone walls that rise and plunge down over the rough and broken hillsides.

Pathetic Figure in History.

Siena makes rather a pathetic figure in history. While the Florentines possessed enough imagination, initiative and determination to accomplish whatever they set their hands to do, the Sienese, lacking their mental discipline, developed to a certain medieval standard and stopped growing. Even during the Renaissance, when all the rest of Italy was striking boldly out under the inspiration of Florence, Siena contented herself with outward traditions and a fierce, passionate jealousy of her mighty neighbor that ended with her own eclipse; and once the Florentine supremacy was established, Siena became what she is today, merely a fine old provincial town full of glorious art and memories.

It is of interest to note that the underlying cause of all the jealousy and the bloody wars between Siena and Florence was pure commercial rivalry.

The first of the north Italian states to be mistress of the seas was Pisa, a river town, then only two miles from the sea upon which she so gloriously proved her strength in the troublesome days of the Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth centuries. Her monumental buildings, though they are within the circuit of her ancient walls stand clear of the city proper, happy in their isolation; and no one who is drawn to Pisa today by the fame of their dazzling splendors can fail to read in each and every one—the cathedral, campanile, baptistery and Camposanto—the record of her maritime successes.

The cathedral was founded in a burst of popular enthusiasm after the great naval victory over the Saracens at Palermo, Sicily, in the Eleventh century, and the Pisans brought home no less than six whole shiploads of loot—bronzes, columns, gold, and marbles and precious stones—for its decoration. Inside and out it rises in layers of black and white marbles; masses of rich Corinthian columns and arches, colored mosaics and ornaments of antique pattern diversify its wonderful facade—the crowning glory of the edifice—and from the crossing springs a huge dome that adds both dignity and height to its basilican form.

Within, swinging pendulously among the red granite columns that support the roof, is a beautiful and famous old bronze lamp, whose fame is based upon the gentle oscillations that set Galileo to thinking out the pendulum. Incidentally, this is not the lamp, it was an older one. Not only did the cathedral mark the naval and maritime achievements of Pisa, but it also stood for a magnificent beginning of medieval Italian architecture—a beginning and a promise which, unfortunately, were never fulfilled.

How strange it seems to us today that the great city-republics of Italy never seem to have thought of permanent confederation, but only of conquest! When a temporary alliance was formed, as was often the case, it was invariably for the destruction or subjugation of some sister city, and dissolved as soon as its purpose was accomplished. This lack of Italian unity in politics explains perfectly the failure to develop a national style in architecture. Such a development requires the co-operation of a whole people, working together sympathetically toward a common end, as was the case in France during the development of the Gothic.

Work of Individual Genius.

This never occurred in Italy, and so whatever great architecture we find there is the work of individual genius. But however much architecture suffered from the general disunity, exactly the opposite occurred in painting and sculpture. These are always the result of special personal ability. Accordingly, the Italians, because of their strong individuality and their political systems, which made them, as individuals, able and eager to think for themselves, rank as the foremost painters the world has ever seen.

About a century after the cathedral of Pisa was begun the baptistery was founded, a magnificent circular structure surrounded completely with arcades and crowned with a soaring dome of majestic proportions and height.

Most remarkable of all the superb group, however, is the exquisite, colonnaded, white marble campanile or bell-tower. It was intended to be perfectly erect, but by the time the third story had been built the foundations of the south side had subsided and the structure leaned heavily. To prevent it from falling when completed, the Pisans inclined every story above the third slightly toward the north, and the flagpole and the heaviest bells were placed on the safe side. Yet, despite the correction in its inclination, it leaned 12 feet out of plumb a few years ago, and because of further subsidence of the foundation grave fears are felt for its safety.

Alongside the cathedral, to the north, is the Campo Santo, or cemetery, every inch of whose sacred soil is holy ground, brought from the Holy Land. Its cloisters are now a museum decorated with the trophies of antiquity and research.

It is impossible to express in a few words the charm of northern Tuscany, with its wealth of walled towns, its medieval architecture, its luxuriant and stately villas and gardens, and the fresh, clean, joyous greenery of the countryside. In such a setting as this the thorny exterior of factory chimneys would move a Ruskin to exclaim "Detestable!" The chimneys are detestable, as landscapes, but the industries of which they are the symbol are the life of the region.

No less surprising is the fluent Americanness that everywhere greets the ear, tripping easily from the tongues of countless Americans, as those Italians who have been to either of our continents are familiarly called by those who have not. Incidentally, many of the chimneys are the property of those repatriated Americans.

Zoning Ordinance Hearing Monday

Mayor E. J. Dempsey has fixed Thursday evening, May 24, as the date for holding a public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance. The ordinance will be read in the city hall at 8 o'clock, and the public is invited to attend. The ordinance is intended to regulate the use of land and buildings in the city, and to prevent the erection of structures that would be a detriment to the health, safety or morals of the community.

UNION DERBYISTS ON THE WAY TO SUFFERN

Middleton, N. Y., May 24.—A number of union derbyists were seen for the first time today. They will bring them to Suffern, N. Y., only two days from the finish in Madison Square Garden. Tomorrow's lap will take them to Passaic, N. J., and Saturday will see them at the end of their long trek from Los Angeles.

Andy Payne, Claremore, Okla., farm boy, who apparently is firmly entrenched in the lead, increased his margin over John Salo of Passaic to 17 hours, 25 minutes, 7 seconds, in yesterday's lap from Liberty, N. Y., to Middletown.

Today, it was easy and saving himself for the final dash, Payne joined in to a tie for tenth place in yesterday's lap with Philip Granville of Hamilton, Ont., holder of third place in the standing, and Roy McCarty of Indianapolis, twelfth place man. Their time for the 25 miles was 7:44:21. Salo, held back by a chariot foot, came in eighth with the day in 8:17:02, nearly two hours behind Payne.

Ed Gardner, Seattle, negro, who holds eighth place, took the lead yesterday, finishing in 6:02:59, and gaining a further hold on his position. The only one of the twenty leaders to improve his position yesterday was William Kerr of Minneapolis, who moved from seventh place into sixth. Kerr took sixteenth place for the day in 8:42:25, giving him a margin of more than four hours over Louis Parolla of Albany, N. Y., former sixth place holder, who finished far in the rear. Kerr's elapsed time was 6:32:06:08, while Parolla's time of 6:34:27 still gave him a clear margin over Gardner.

Search Here for Captain Hyde

A newspaper despatch from Russell Park, N. J., dated May 23, states that Captain John Hyde disappeared from his home, No. 112 Roosevelt street, on Monday, May 21, and the police in that place broadcast a description of him.

Captain Hyde, according to the despatch, had been in the Lehigh Valley Railroad Jersey City, and his wife had been dependent on him for support. He had been home on Monday morning but never reached the door.

The description of Captain Hyde is that he is 59 years old, five feet seven inches in height, weighs 150 pounds, has blue eyes, gray hair, is clean shaven and has a fair complexion. He is wearing a dark suit with white shirt, dark overcoat, blue work shoes, brown shoes and stockings and a slouch hat with the initials "J. H. S." on the band.

A woman who said she was Mrs. Katherine Hyde, wife of the missing captain, called at the Freeman office today with the newspaper clipping and said she had been looking for traces of Captain Hyde but was unable to find them. She spent Wednesday night, she said, at the home of Captain Hyde's aunt, Mrs. Ira Hyde of Connelly, and expected to go to Albany during the afternoon to continue her search there.

Captain Hyde, she said, was a son of the late Julius Hyde of this city and is a steamboat captain and United States harbor pilot.

Favor Higher Milk Price

New York, May 24 (AP).—Milk, more toward securing New York city adequate milk supply during the normal short production months of late summer and early autumn by providing an incentive to dairymen of the New York Milk Shed to increase production during that period was made by the board of directors of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., here Wednesday.

A survey of probable market needs and production resources, say officials of the League, show that the New York Milk Shed has facilities capable of providing a plentiful milk supply, but to assure ample production farmers must have an incentive to make the effort. Higher production can be acquired by proper care and feeding of herds to stimulate the flow of milk.

The League board of directors went on record as being in favor of a higher milk price to dairymen of this territory as soon as market conditions warrant such action. In taking this step the directors of the Dairymen's League are the first representatives of farmers to act toward securing a better return for the producers.

League officials pointed out today that by giving the farmers a higher price before the threatened shortage actually begins they will be found responsive to the urging for greater production. Only by this means, and by giving the dairymen assurance that they will receive prices through the fall commensurate with production costs they will have to assume to increase the milk supply, can adequate supplies be assured, say the League officials.

Last year when a threatened milk shortage confronted New York the Dairymen's League took the lead in an intensive campaign to persuade farmers to produce more milk. Those efforts met with distinguished success, and the metropolitan market was supplied without any necessity for importation of supplies from sources outside the natural milk shed.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 24 (AP)—The market for foreign exchange was quiet today. A steady demand for dollars was met through the market at moderate rates. The dollar was well supported, and the market showed its fine under the leadership of the steel, sugar, copper, and automobile shares. Trading was moderate and steady.

The dollar's true development was steady. The dollar was well supported, and the market showed its fine under the leadership of the steel, sugar, copper, and automobile shares. Trading was moderate and steady.

Interest rates were advanced 1/2 of a cent a pound, and a rumor of a new rate was reported for the first time.

Directors of the Green Canaan Copper Company resumed payments at the annual rate of $4 after a lapse of eight years, and dividends also were resumed on Nichols Copper company.

Adams Express, which soared 17 points yesterday, made a similar gain today. Curtiss Aeroplane ran up nearly 11 points and Wright 7 1/2, losing half of their gains in the noon selling movement, and then heading upward again. National Biscuit, International Harvester, Colorado Fuel, International Telephone and Collins and Altkman sold four to six points higher.

Glubel Brothers again moved into new high ground on buying influenced by the election of Julius Rosenwald to the board of directors. Kelvator responded to reports of heavy electric refrigerator sales by crossing 20 to a new high figure. Auto sales also was under heavy accumulation, setting a new top at 15 1/2.

Other issues to break into new high ground included Ludlum steel, Central Alloy Steel, Consolidated Railways of Cuba, South Porto Rican Sugar, and American Safety Razor.

The closing was strong. Speculators responded to the purchase of individual blocks ranging from 5,000 to 15,000 shares by marching up to 8 1/2, highest since 1924. Concurrent strength also was shown by many other stocks which are easily moved.

Radio sold 10 points above its early low. International Nickel and Brooklyn Edison jumped five points, and Pacific Coast and Otis Steel led the fast movers among the low priced issues.

Total sales approximated 3,000,000 shares.

BUTTERFAT INCREASE RAISES DAIRY PROFITS

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Records of 100,000 cows tested by dairy herd improvement associations in all parts of the country, as analyzed by experts in the department of agriculture, show that every gain of 100 pounds of butterfat production represents an increase of about $40 in return over cost of feed.

"In other words," they say, "the dairyman with a herd of ten cows each producing 500 pounds of butterfat a year obtains as much net income from them as the dairyman with a herd of 130 cows each producing only 100 pounds of butterfat a year."

"To build up a small herd of dairy cows with an average butterfat production of 450 to 500 pounds requires good headwork; to obtain the same profits from a herd with an average butterfat production of 140 to 150 pounds requires much hardwork. If the dairyman uses his head, he saves his hands."

ROCK DISTRICT SCHOOL REUNION AND PICNIC

(Contributed)

Stone Ridge, May 24.—Readers are familiar with the plans of the Rock District for a happy reunion, given publicly through the courtesy of The Kingston Freeman of April 24. This event is to take place on June 5 in the grove of Mr. Winkelman near the school house. The plans are taking on larger dimensions daily to make this get-together an outstanding event. We are quite sure that we are a unit in the maintenance of our rural schools which politicians are endeavoring to obliterate and force to consolidation. Such consolidation would mean a heavy bonded indebtedness to our township, and would also work hardship to our student body in the way of transportation. What a pity that school matters have gotten into the hands of politicians. The taxpayers and voters of our township are to an extent familiar with the fate of the Thayer-Gedney bill passed by the Assembly but sidetracked by the Senate. Now we want first hand information from our representative, and so we are to have with us that day Assemblyman Millard Davis whom we elected to challenge our rights, which he has done. He will tell us what to do, and how to do it well. Come and hear him and fire all the questions at him you may wish. Let us go on record as a town in favor of the Thayer-Gedney bills. We invite the P. T. A., Grangers, as well as the Home Bureau to come to this picnic and voice your needs in these bills. Superintendent J. Hartley Tanager will dilate upon the needs of the rural school. Miss Nellie Davenport will tell us the needs of proper foods. Speaking will begin at 2 p. m. Let us come early and bring ample basket lunch. Our ranks are fast depleting both in teachers and student body of the Rock District. It will do us good to meet and clasp hands once more.

As teachers we know the following to be living, and we urge you to come. Mrs. A. D. Roosa, Hasbrouck Palace, Dr. John Davis, William Mirock, Mead Davis, Mrs. David Depew, Mrs. John Depew and others whose names we haven't secured. The following students are living and the most of you take the Kingston Freeman. We use maiden names for convenience. Katie Steen, Katie Van Leuven, Josephine Hasbrouck, Julia Hasbrouck, Gertrude Teneyck, David Depew, John Depew, Edward Hardenburg, Lemuel Davis, Herman Davis, Elmira Van Leuven, Effie Pine, William Pine, Andrew Pine, Daniel Pine, Wells Pine, Charlie Davis, Grace Davis, Mabel Pine, Ollie Davis, Mary Davis, Depew Davis, Jennie Davis, Lilly Davis, Hattie Davis, John Hasbrouck, Mary Chambers, Cora Chambers, Julian Chambers, Grace Frost, Amanda Depew, Fannie Depew, Sarah Depew, Lizzie Merritt, Minnie Merritt, Katherine Merritt, Ganse Beach, Millie Beach, Victor Van Wageningen, Jennie Van Wageningen, Millie Van Wageningen, Phoebe Van Wageningen, Ina Van Wageningen, Bertha Van Wageningen, May Van Wageningen, Esther Dubois, Emma Dubois, Ollie Dubois, Susie Pratt, Joseph Pratt, Elmer Pratt, Agnes Sutherland, Herbert Sutherland, Francis Sutherland and Oscar Sutherland. If you live in the district now, or ever have, come and join us that day. The local committee will see to it that plenty of ice water is furnished. The school under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Saeconan will conduct a refreshment stand, the proceeds of this will go toward a library fund for the school. We want our former teachers to tell us of their recollections of those by-gone days. If stormy the picnic will be held the next fair day.

Service at Krumville Church.

Outselling All 'Sixes'

World's greatest value by the verdict of the world . . .

The most important thing ever said of Essex is said by buyers in the largest 6-cylinder sales, and the most overwhelming competitive preference of automobile history.

The only prestige back of this enormous success is the public knowledge that Essex has always stood for value—and this time such pre-eminent value that there is no second.

In many territories Essex sales exceed those of any other "Six" by more than 2 to 1. And, with slight variations, this preference is the nation's and the world's.

OLD CIVIL WAR SHELL EXPLODES

Ancient Bomb Scars Forest and Endangers Lives of Two Men.

Middletown, N. C.—A forest near here was scarred and two men nearly killed when a bomb, thought to have been a relic of the Civil War, exploded after a farmer, finding it buried in the ground, opened it in the belief that it was an iron case containing gold.

Joe Hester, the farmer, and his son, John, were chopping down trees of the farm of Mrs. G. J. Harrison. Hester noted an old musket barrel protruding from the ground near an old rotting stump and went over to investigate his find.

According to Hester, there is an old tradition in that neighborhood to the effect that there is money buried in the vicinity, and he immediately jumped to the conclusion that this object was the container of the long-lost treasure.

Break It Open.

Hester kicked the object around, loosened it from the ground, and pulled it from its resting place for the last half of a century or more, and then began an examination. He suggested to his son that they break it open. An ax was employed and the work of demolition began.

Hester, fearing that the blight upon which they had found the missile afforded an excellent opportunity for their investigation to be detected, rereated for a deep cross mark of the hill and there proceeded in breaking the object and across the base of the shell. The base of the shell was then cut open, but nothing could be seen of the contents.

It was finally decided to cut a hole around the shell and the work was then resumed. After several hours the fire the farmer and his son returned to the chopping area and began to work. After a few minutes of work they went back to the fire and set on the ground beside the burning shell and watched it. They felt the fire up, relit the fire and again returned to their task of cutting wood.

The Bomb Explodes.

Just as they reached the crest of the hill there was a terrific explosion.
Trees crashed and flying glass and shrapnel were heard in the air.
Mrs. Harrison, working near her barn, which is situated at least half a mile from the scene of the explosion, heard and saw a fragment of the bomb just a few feet from where she stood. Small trees and saplings were cut in two by the blast.

There is every reason to believe the shell is of the Civil War period. The copper ring cut from the base of the shell is identical with that of a four-inch shell, fourteen inches long, used in the war between the states. It is further believed that the shell was manufactured in High Shoals, in Gaston county, as shells were made there during the war.

The case of the shell carried the number 1921. It is all probability the case had become inactive, because the shell failed to go off when Hester cut through the casing with his ax.

Rebuke Parishioner
for "Ungodly Strut"

Portland, Maine.—The New England preachers and church deacons of an earlier day were frankly outspoken.
Even in their prayers they did not hesitate to become personal. One of these Puritanical exhorters named Moody was ordained pastor at York, Maine, in the year 1790. A village blade had publicly called attention to some fine, new clothes the minister was wearing, so the pastor staged a "come back." In his prayer he said with a continually rising inflection,
"And, O Lord! we pray Thee, cure Ned Ingraham of that ungodly strut!"
In dry spells it was not unusual to pray for rain. One Maine minister is credited in the town records with this phraseology: "O Lord, Thou knowest we do not want Thee to send us a rain which shall pour down in fury and swell streams and carry away our haycocks, fences and bridges; but, Lord, we want it to come drizzle-droze, drizzle-droze for about a week.
Amen!"

Women Join Stampede
to Kill Alaska Beaver

Seward, Alaska.—With a thousand Malamutes yelping and tugging at the traces of sledges, 265 men and women were participating recently in a stampede to Clark's lake—with beaver, not gold, as their goal.
The rush started in Iktana, on Cook's inlet, where the stampede-ers gathered to await the hour at which they might start for Clark's lake, thrown open on May 1 for thirty days of beaver trapping. Each person is privileged to trap twenty beaver in the thirty days, after which the district will be closed for an indefinite period.

Dress-Alike Party

Perhaps the dinkiest dance I have been to lately was Lady Jordan's. All the dancers were dressed exactly alike —up to the masks, which grinned.
There were some charming embarrassments. And the queer thing was that when everybody unmasked for breakfast, even then, somehow, we all seemed alike. Quite remarkable, wasn't it?—"Lady of Fashion," in G.
K.'s Weekly.
